

Northeastern University
NULab for Texts, Maps, and Networks

NULab Spring Conference: DIGITAL STORYTELLING

March 29, 2019

Northeastern University

Alumni Center

9:30 AM – 5:00 PM

Keynote Address:

“All the Stars Are Closer: Galaxies of Black Digital Practice”

Jessica Marie Johnson, Johns Hopkins University

Featuring Talks by Northeastern Faculty and Graduate Students:

Nicole Aljoe: English, Director of African and African American Studies Program

Nicholas Beauchamp: Political Science

Cameron Blevins: History

Elizabeth Maddock Dillon: English, NULab Co-director

Donghee Jo: Economics

Molly Nebiolo: History

Laura Nelson: Sociology and Anthropology

Dietmar Offenhuber: Art + Design, Public Policy and Urban Affairs

Élika Ortega: Cultures, Societies and Global Studies

Jessica Silbey: Law, Center for Law, Innovation and Creativity
Co-Director

Laura South: Khoury College of Computer Sciences

John Wihbey: Journalism

Lunch and refreshments will be provided.

This conference is free and open to the public, but registration is required. RSVP at:
bit.ly/NULab2019
For more information:
[web.northeastern.edu/
nulab/event/spring-conference-2019/](http://web.northeastern.edu/nulab/event/spring-conference-2019/)