Postdoctoral Fellowships/Associates in the Digital Humanities
MIT School of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences
Cambridge, MA

The Digital Humanities Programs of the MIT School of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences (SHASS) announce a Postdoctoral Fellowship/Associate in the Digital Humanities to begin Sep. 1, 2019.

The postdoc will be for one year; an additional year may be possible subject to funding availability.

The postdoc will work within the Mellon-funded SHASS Digital Humanities Programs to pursue their own research and enable the creation of digital tools to assist in other faculty research and pedagogy. Depending on departmental needs, the scholar will teach up to one class per year in their area of research or discipline.

Applicants are welcomed in all areas of humanistic research represented in SHASS, including History, Literature, Anthropology, Global Studies and Languages, Music and Theater Research, Comparative Media Studies/Writing, and Women and Gender Studies. Art Historians, Archeologists, and other researchers whose work overlaps with a field described above may also be considered.

The annual salary will be $68,350, plus benefits. Funding for some research/presentation travel will be included.

Qualifications:
1. Doctoral degree must have been earned between January 1, 2015, and August 31, 2019. Candidates who are defending before June 2020 may also be considered.
2. Experience in humanistic research and evidence of teaching ability.
3. Technical skills including demonstrable knowledge of at least one programming language. Prior experience in uniting technical and humanistic research is a plus.
4. Excellent written and oral communication skills and the ability to work in a team.

MIT is an equal employment opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin.

Send Cover letter, C.V., names and contact information for at least one recommender, and links to evidence of technical experience to digitalhumanities@mit.edu . The position is open until filled and evaluation of candidates will be ongoing as received.
